MISSION

To empower single parents with special needs children by providing guidance and support to not only become self-sufficient but to thrive and provide a stable future for their families.

VISION

We envision single parent families with special needs children becoming independent and self-supporting

WHO WE ARE

Single parents, the heart of the family. We are the ones who deal with the issues associated with a child's disability—doctors, childcare providers, family members, the child's school, the professionals who work with our child. We also maintain the household — working to pay the bills, shopping, cooking, cleaning up, taking care of other children.

Is it any wonder that many parents of children with disabilities report times of feeling overwhelmed?

We are your neighbors and friends.

WHY

1 out of 5 people in the U.S. have a disability

People with disabilities control more than $220 billion a year in disposable income

73% of people with disabilities are heads of households

85% of consumers have a better outlook on businesses that give to a charity that they care about

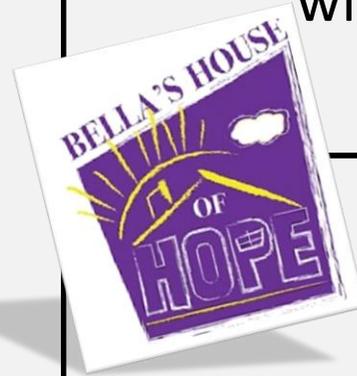

BHoH is filling a critical often overlooked niche supporting single parents of special needs children

WHAT WE NEED

Resources

To increase our capacity with 2 or 3-year commitments

Long-term partnerships

To buy Bella's house to use for temp housing, therapy sessions, office space
